DOES YOUR PARTNER EVER...

Insist on knowing where you are, who you are with, or how long you'll be gone?

Constantly accuse you of having sex or flirting with people in your life (teachers, friends, bosses, coworkers, etc.)?

Monitor what you wear, how you wear it, or how much makeup you put on?

Get angry easily and have quick mood changes or unpredictable behavior?

Call you names, ignore your feelings, or criticize qualities you like about yourself?

Break or throw things, punch or kick walls and/or doors when angry?

Threaten to abuse, torture, or kill pets to scare you?

Threaten to abuse, torture, or kill your children, family, friends, or other animals?

Tease you about your body or manipulate you to do sexual things when you don't want to?

Slap, push, hit, choke, kick, grab, spit, trip, bite, or restrain you?

THESE ARE ALL SIGNS THAT MAY INDICATE YOU ARE IN AN ABUSIVE RELATIONSHIP

Humboldt Domestic Violence Services has been serving the North Coast since 1977. Founded on the basic principles of consensus-based empowerment and non-violence, we have continually expanded our services through the years to assist all those living with or escaping from abuse.

WHAT IS INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE?

Intimate Partner Violence takes many forms. It can be an occasional slap or push. It can be threats of physical harm or even death. It can be control over the lives of others, such as the refusal to let someone work, go to school, or leave the house. It can be insults and curses. It can be threats to deport someone, take away one's children, or ruin one's reputation.

Intimate Partner Violence is not only physical or threats of harm, it can be emotional, verbal, sexual, or economic abuse. It can take place within a marriage, a dating relationship, a gay or lesbian relationship, or a former marriage or dating relationship.

No one deserves to be abused.

It is not your fault.

You are not "crazy."

You are not alone.
